ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF
MOUNT ST. MARY'S COLLEGE

THE SEAL OF MOUNT ST. MARY'S COLLEGE, designed by Baker of London, contains a circular shield about which is the name of the college, and the date of its founding, 1925. The circle has four divisions. At the bottom center is an open book inscribed with the college motto — Deus Illuminatio Mea — God My Light. At the upper left are three angel wings signifying the city of Los Angeles. The fleur de lis of France at the upper right represents the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet who were established in France in 1650. At the upper center a lily surrounded by thorns stands for Mary, Mother of Sorrows. The seal thus beautifully symbolizes Mount St. Mary's College, founded by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet in the city of the angels.

Dedication

*... And now, I follow paths that point to shrines of Mary and her silent spouse. I kneel on leaves to pray in whispers-prayers that speak the love I feel.
Mary listens well to words that, then, I could not tell.*

— MARY JOANN LINDENFELD, '49

To the graduates of 1948

*M*AY GOD be your light today, tomorrow, and always. This is my wish, my prayer for you as you leave behind your student days at Mount St. Mary's to take your places in the ranks of her Alumnae and to assume your duties as Catholic leaders in a world that needs your faith, your courage, your ideals. To you, your Alma Mater entrusts her traditions, her hopes for the future. As Catholic leaders, we urge you to be faithful to the principles which are your inheritance. We beg you to be generous in doing your part in renewing the face of the earth by bringing Christ into every sphere of life and by illuminating the ways of darkness and paganism with the light of Christian principles. Think often of your Alma Mater and the lessons you learned at Mount St. Mary's. Often "lift up your eyes to the hills" where you will derive strength and confidence from God who will be your constant guide, your unfailing friend. That God may bless you and that His Blessed Mother may keep you ever in her loving care is my heartfelt prayer for each of you now and through the years.

Resident Student Council

The resident student council, one of the major organizations on campus, was formed this year to promote better and closer cooperation among resident students; it aims to develop a high degree of responsibility in self-government, to strengthen relations between faculty and students, to provide a body of students authorized to express reliable and adequate opinions in matters of general college interest, and to carry out the many obligations of living on campus. The group supervises telephone duty, hall duty, social night, and helps in general to solve various problems which may arise.

The council, made up of a president and two representatives from each class, makes and enforces the rules with faculty approval. Through a monthly meeting with the entire resident group, it receives suggestions, reviews rules, and discusses and solves resident student problems.

Ad Jesum Per Mariam

The whole spirit and purpose of Catholic education is summed up in two words — student Sodalists. And that is exactly what one finds at Mt. St. Mary's — an association of student Sodalists intent on fulfilling the aims of their beloved Sodality. They realize that they are being trained to lead full apostolic lives, to provide the Church with outstanding Catholics, and to people the world with leaders who know and defend their faith.

Every branch of learning at the Mount finds itself influenced in some way by the Sodality. In the fields of art, education, science, English, music — Sodalists are always present, permeating each task with their ardent love for the Blessed Mother. With this devotion deep-rooted in the student body, many projects have been successfully completed — the European Relief Fund, Book Week, the making of altar linens, the distribution of Catholic literature throughout the student body, the spiritual exercises — all these and many more evidence the potential power of energetic Sodalists and point toward their future efforts to "restore all things in Christ" — through Mary.

The Best Things Are Free

This collage consists of 18 black and white photographs arranged in a grid-like fashion, capturing various moments of student life in the 1940s. The photos are as follows:

- Top Left: A close-up of a young woman with curly hair, smiling and holding a small object.
- Top Center-Left: A group of students in white shirts and dark skirts, possibly a dance or social event, with a wooden fence in the background.
- Top Center-Right: A young woman in a dark dress and a white sailor-style collar, holding a pennant that reads "NU".
- Top Right: A young woman in a dark jacket stands in a laboratory or classroom, surrounded by scientific equipment like flasks and beakers.
- Middle Left (Top): A young woman in a light-colored shirt sits on the hood of a car, holding a book.
- Middle Left (Bottom): A young woman in a light-colored dress stands outdoors, holding a book.
- Middle Right (Top): A young woman in a plaid dress stands in front of a building.
- Middle Right (Bottom): A young woman in a light-colored dress stands outdoors, holding a book.
- Middle Far Right: A young woman in a plaid dress stands in front of a building.
- Bottom Left (Top): A young woman in a light-colored dress stands outdoors, holding a book.
- Bottom Left (Middle): A group of students sitting at a table outdoors, possibly at a picnic or social gathering.
- Bottom Left (Bottom): A young woman in a light-colored dress stands outdoors, holding a book.
- Bottom Center: A young woman in a light-colored dress stands outdoors, holding a book.
- Bottom Right (Top): A young man in a light-colored shirt and trousers stands next to a car, holding the door open.
- Bottom Right (Bottom): A young woman in a light-colored dress stands outdoors, holding a book.

In Memoriam

CLARE RIGALI

Questions

Out of five, she was chosen to go before her creator and give an account of her 20 years service.

Why? Why was it Clare and not one of the other girls? Why was the car hardly damaged and nobody else even seriously hurt? Yet Clare was killed.

Why did she go to Confession and intend to receive Holy Communion on the morning of her death? Why did she not sleep that extra half-hour in anticipation of a long trip?

Why did she not sit in the front seat, instead of insisting on the rear one by the window, that was later shattered? Why should such a relatively slight collision kill one and leave four others unharmed?

Why should her last paper for Social Welfare have been written on man's right to emergency medical care? Why should it have been so all-inclusive and so very deeply thought through?

Why did God take Clare? No one knows, only God, Whose timing is perfect and Whose decisions are eternally wise.

In Memoriam

"Behold a great priest who in his days pleased God" in our late beloved Archbishop John J. Cantwell. The priestly ideal — to bring God to man, to bring man to God — directed all that he did. The virtues of the great high priest, Jesus Christ, were the virtues of His servant, John Joseph — love for the poor, zeal for His Father's glory, generosity in sacrificing himself to spread God's kingdom on earth. If the Church in the Southwest may boast of future saints and scholars who will keep the light of wisdom flaming in the dark days to come, Archbishop Cantwell will be largely responsible for his breadth of vision which foresaw its need. His children at Mount St. Mary's who remember him with love and gratitude pray for him, and pray to him to ask God's Mother whom he loved so well to bless her Mount.

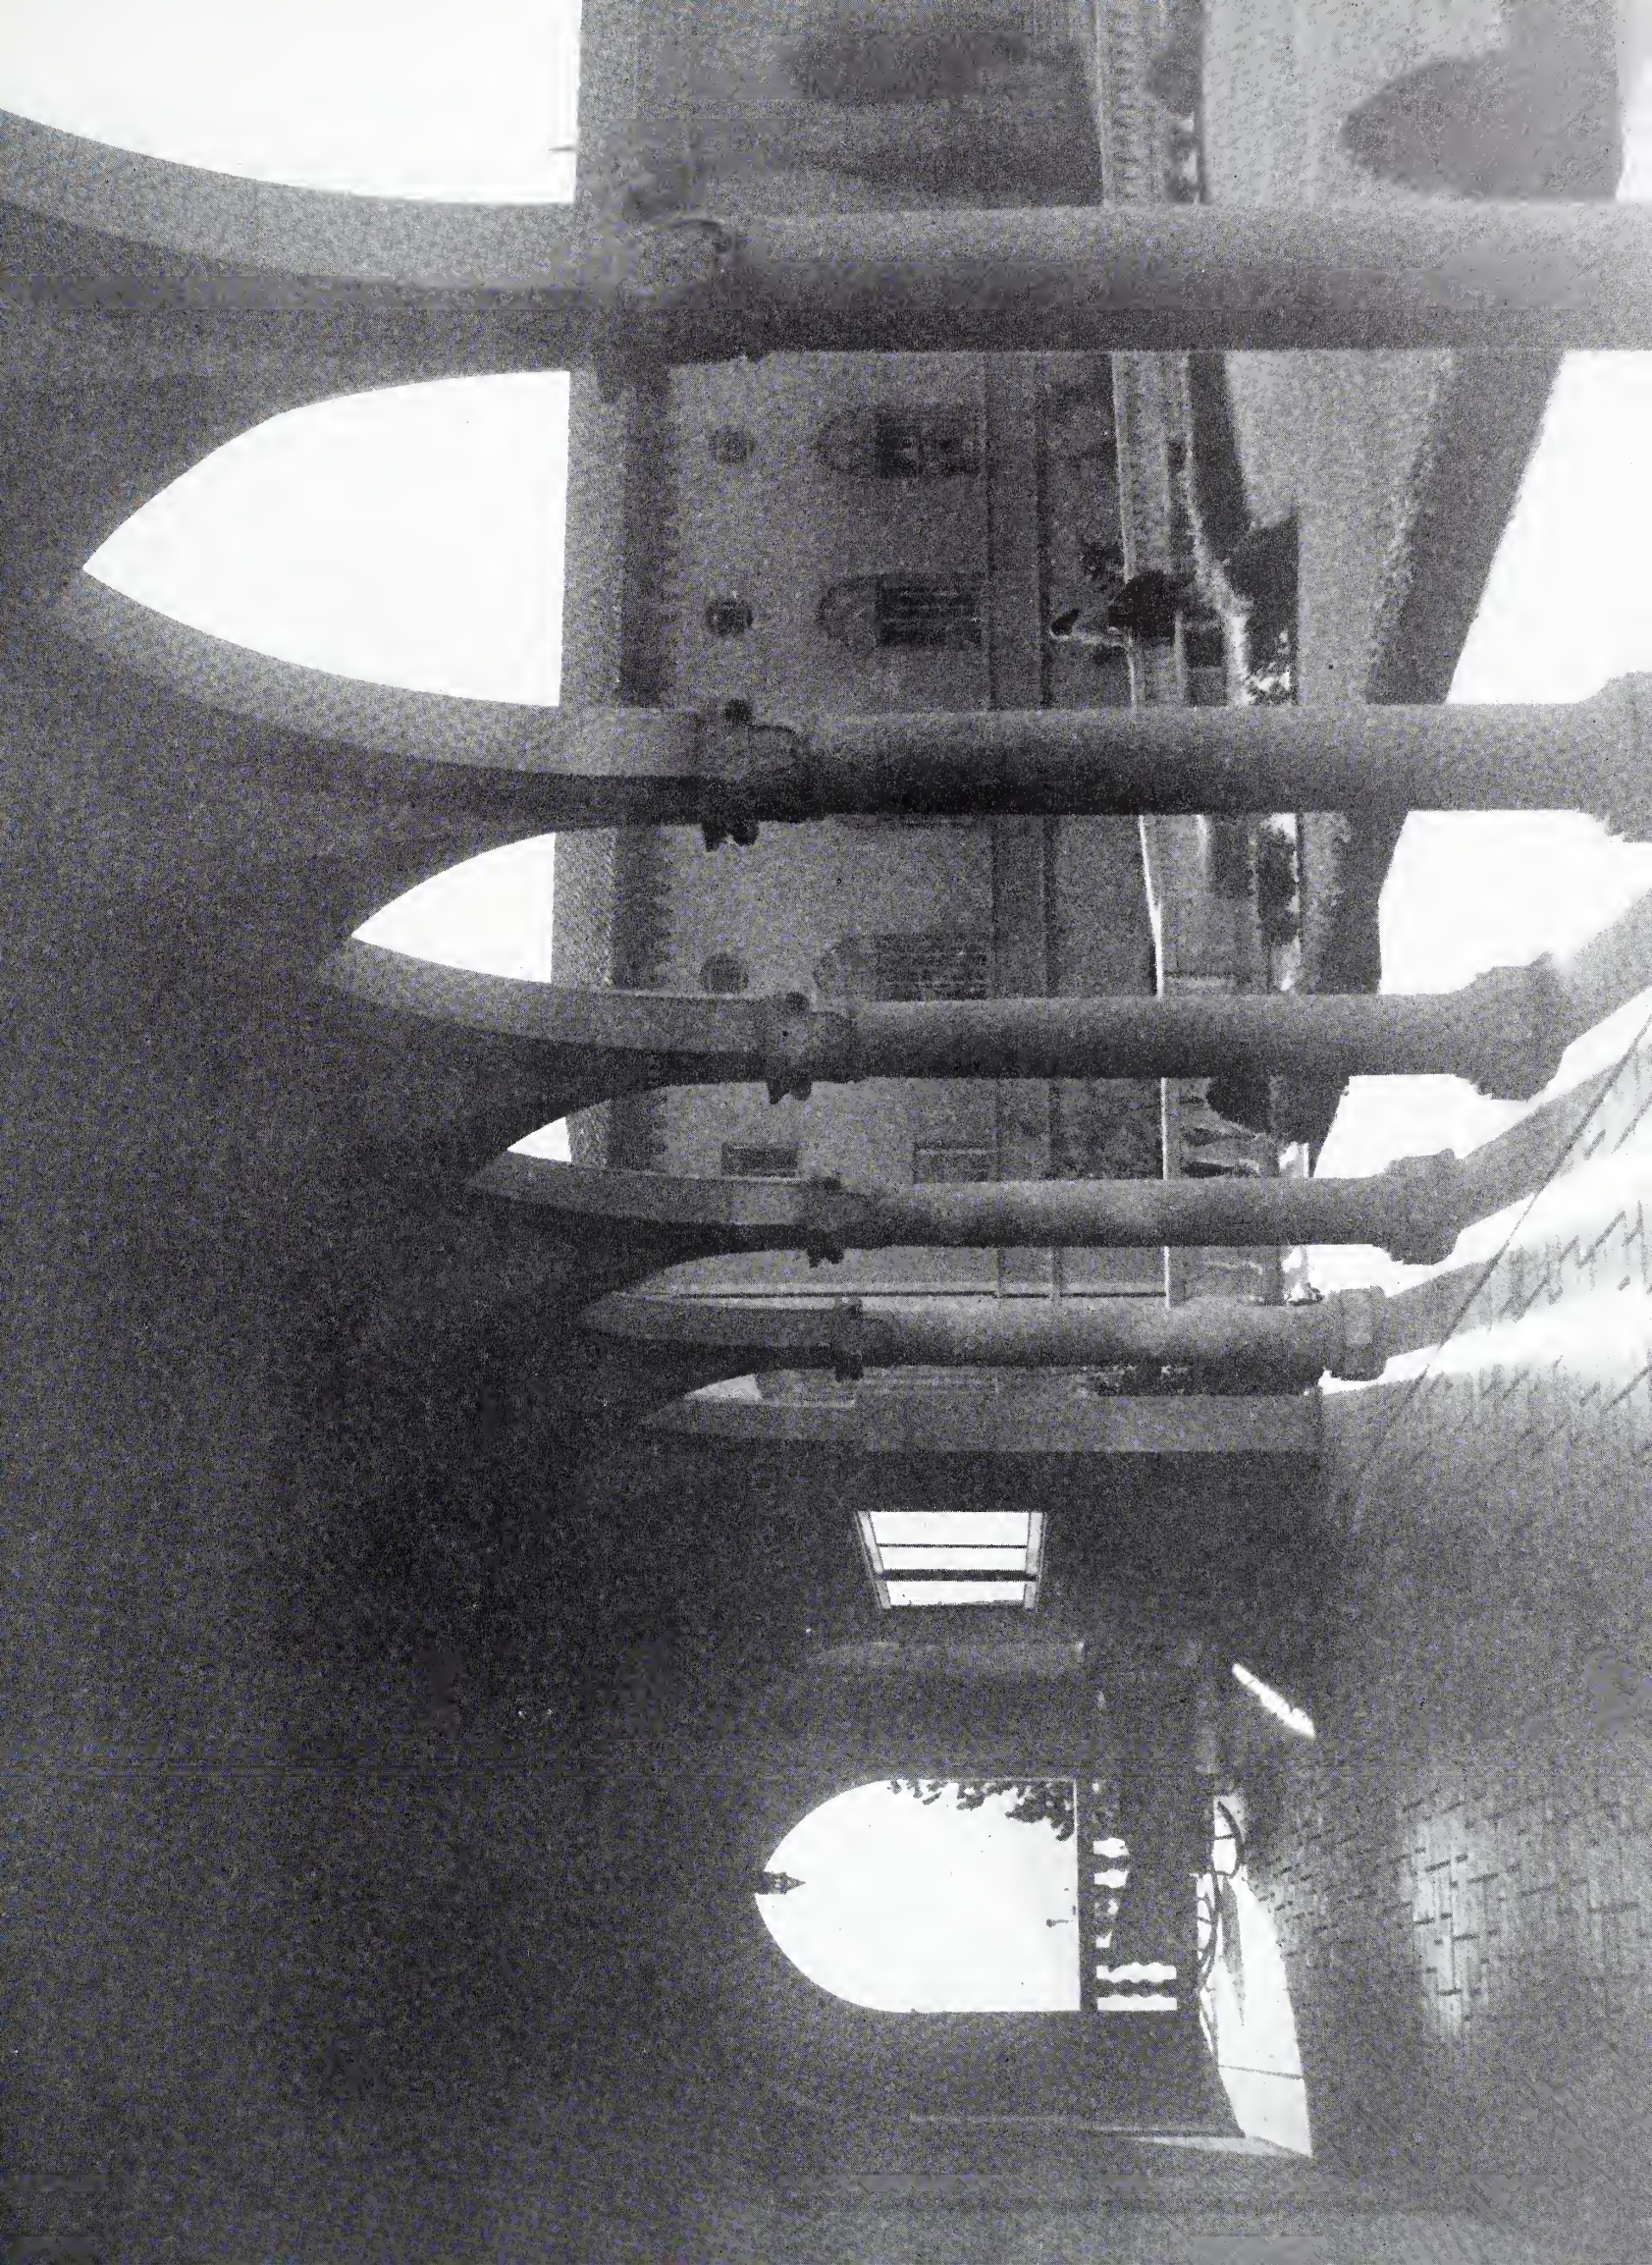

Reverend Thomas Coogan, prominent young priest of the Los Angeles Archdiocese, instructor at Mount St. Mary's College and director of the Los Angeles Labor Institute, was killed in an automobile accident in November, 1947.

As a teacher, Father Coogan was well-known for his scholarly presentation of facts, and for his ability to make the problems of Labor Economics and Public Finance come alive. Because of his part in settling labor disputes, Father brought first-hand information to class.
